World Watchers recognized for its efforts

The LCPS World Watchers Nature Club was recognized for its conservation efforts last week when Maitland Valley Conservation Authority (MVCA) named this year's recipients of conservation award certificates.

The World Watchers Nature Club was formed in 1989 with the goal of caring for the environment. The group, encouraged by teacher Joan Black, has been involved in numerous conservation and resource management projects. Among its many projects the group built bird and bat boxes for their community, assisted with tree planting as part of the Lucknow Greenway project, undertook a beach cleanup on Lake Huron and made donations to local wildlife rehabilitation centres.

Others receiving the certificates were: the Maitland Trail Association; Tony and July Emond of Elma Township; Glen Warwick of Bluevale; Don Eadie of Tumberry Township and Martin Pronk of Minto Township.

"The goal of the MVCA is to conserve watershed soil and water resources," noted MVCA vice-chair Ivan Suggitt. "We could never accomplish this goal without the cooperation, assistance and support of individuals and groups such as these."

OPP charge man with driving related offenses

A 34-year-old Lucknow area man with two children in his car was charged with drinking and driving related offenses on Nov. 12.

At 12:30 a.m., officers on patrol in Lucknow observed the man driving erratically on Campbell Street.

He was arrested and charged with impaired driving, driving while prohibited, driving without insurance and driving with an unauthorized licence plate.

The children were taken to their mother's home about two miles away.

Kincardine OPP are investigating a possible tampering with a piece of construction equipment at Bruce Generating Station B at the Bruce Nuclear Power Development.

OPP were called by BNPD security on Nov. 15 to report a bolt had allegedly been loosened on a beam trolley being used in the construction of a monorail.

A construction worker discovered the loose bolt on Nov. 14 and reported it to security.

If the bolt came out, the trolley could have fallen, endangering people working below.

The equipment had been repaired before the OPP were notified.

The incident is under investigation.

Jos Montferrand, a man known by many names him around his shoulders, knocking down the other assailants as they charged. Jos managed to throw a number of the gang off the bridge, and the rest retreated back the way they came.

Jos also gained fame for his victories in various officially staged competitions, such as the one on the Quebec City waterfront, in which he defeated the boxing champion of the Royal Navy. The bare knuckled match went 17 rounds, and was watched by thousands of cheering spectators.

Jos Montferrand, the 19th century Canadian lumberjack, became a folk hero in his own time, and after his death the oral tradition carried tales of his exploits across Canada and over the border to the lumber camps of New England, Michigan and Wisconsin. By 1900, he was a legend. Even his name had undergone a transformation, to Big Joe Mufferon, Joe Maufree, or sometimes, Joe Murphey.

Klopp: existing laws are out of date

parties and will come into effect in the next year.

The existing laws were made years ago and are out of date. For example, the existing law does not permit a person to appoint, in advance, someone to make personal care decisions for them if they become mentally incapable. The new law allows this. The new law confirms that a person's wishes will be respected if they become incapable of expressing them. The existing law gives few options to family members if they need to get legal authority to make decisions.

The new law provides more choices. The new law protects the rights of those who are mentally incapable.

The new Office of the Public Guardian & Trustee will apply for guardianship only as a last resort when it is clear that a person needs it and there is no one else willing or able to assume this responsibility.

It is very unfortunate when a program such as the Garth Turner report on CFPL-TV on Nov. 9 gave out so much misleading information about the Substitute Decisions Act. I am writing this letter to correct this and to let the residents of Huron County know that the correct information is available. Feel free to contact my office - forms and information are available.
